Children battling cancer often miss significant amounts of in-classroom time, spending those days in their PJs at home or in the hospital instead of learning with their friends. We can bring awareness to these children and their courage, strength, and perseverance with our Pjammin Day. Thursday, September 28th, wear your school appropriate pajamas and come to the quad for some lazy music. We will be collecting donations for the American Child Cancer Organization. A donation of $1 will be thanked with a Pjammin bracelet. Thank you for your support for this important cause!
